

1. ORIENTATION AND PREDICTING

1. Don't read the text yet! First, read the explanation.

EXPLANATION

Before you read a text, you think about what the text is about. You make a prediction. To make a prediction you look at the:

- title
- headings
- pictures
- words that stand out (bold, italic)

Then you think about what you already know about it. What have you read, heard or seen about it?

This way you activate your background knowledge. You think about words you already know. This helps you to understand the text better.

The title of text is: Happy Valentine's Day.

The headings are: History of Valentine's Day and How Valentine's Day grew.

These are the pictures that come with the text:

Talk about your prediction together and write down some key words in the table below and on the next page.

Title, photos and headings	Prediction
The title : Happy Valentine's Day

The pictures
First heading : History of Valentine's Day
Second heading : How Valentine's Day grew

2. READ THE TEXT & WORDS TO HELP YOU

1. Read the text together with a classmate. Use the 'Words to help you'.
Underline these words in the text. Do you see more difficult words? Underline them too!

the present = het cadeautje

the admirer = de bewonderaar

scary = eng

the emperor = de keizer

to agree = het eens zijn

the law = de wet

the jailer = de gevangenebewaarder

to sign = ondertekenen

traditional = zoals we dat al heel lang gewend zijn

2. Do you understand now what the text is about? Did you predict this?

3. ANSWER THE QUESTIONS

Now, you have read the whole text. What is the text about? Work together with a classmate and answer the questions. They help you to understand the text better. Write down some key words to remember your answers.

1. When is Valentine's Day celebrated?

2. What is Valentine's Day about?

3. Who did priest Valentine in ancient Rome send a letter? And why?

4. What do people send each other on Valentine's Day?

5. What would you like to give to someone you love?

4. WRITE A POEM

In the text you read about cards sent on Valentine's Day. You can send a card to someone you like or love. For example, a friend or family member. On such a card you can write a poem.

Here is an example:
